A SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY ON THE FAR EAST

I. GENERAL REFERENCE WORKS

A. POLITICAL

Langer, W. L., An Encyclopedia of World History, 1940.
Especially good for China and Japan.

The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science,
"Southeastern Asia and the Philippines," March 1943.
Contributions are not uniformly dependable.

Vinacke, Harold, A History of the Far East in Modern Times,
N. Y., 1937.
Standard textbook in the field.

B. ECONOMIC

Gull, E. M. British Economic Interests in the Far East, IPR, 1943.
Largely a summary of previous work by American writers on this subject.

Levy, Roger, and Lacan, Guy, and Roth, Andrew, French Interests and Policies in the Far East, 1941.
Unevenly done.

Rossinger, L.K., Independence for Colonial Asia - the Cost to the Western World, F.P. Report, February 1944.
Brief and rather apologetic in tone.

Shepherd, Jack, Industry in Southeast Asia, IPR, 1941.
Useful survey.

C. GEOGRAPHICAL

Bergsmark, Daniel R., Economic Geography of Asia, 1942.

→ Gressey, George B., Asia's Lands and Peoples, 1944.
Standard work.

II. BIBLIOGRAPHY BY COUNTRIES

A. BURMA

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

Leach, Frederick, The Future of Burma, 1936.
Represents an intelligent conservative point of view.

Scott, Sir George, Burma from the Earliest Times to the Present Day, London, 1924.
A standard treatment, fairly satisfactory.

The Cambridge History of India, Vols. V and VI, 1929.
Selected chapters on Burma by Harvey are very satisfactory up to 1920.

GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION

Christian, John, Modern Burma, Berkeley, 1942.
Useful reference book, marred by Partisan political interpretation.

Mya Sein, Ma, Administration of Burma, London, 1938.
Good but not available in Washington.

Simon Commission, Indian Statutory Commission Report, Vol. XI, 1930.
Contains a full-length description of Burma's Governmental machinery.

Government of Burma, Burma Handbook, Simla, 1943.
A useful reference work.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ASPECTS

Furnivall, J.S., The Political Economy of Burma, Rangoon, 1931.
Revised by J. R. Andrus, 1938.
The only good treatment of the subject; critical of British practice.

Furnivall, J.S., Progress and Welfare in Southeast Asia, 1941.
A suggestive comparative statement.

A. BURMA (Cont'd.)

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE

Kelly, R. T., Burma, the Land and the People, 1910.
Only fair.

Scott, J.S., Gazetteer of Upper Burma and the Shan States,
5 volumes, 1900.
Old, but filled with information.

Stamp, L. Dudley, New Geography of India, Burma and Ceylon, 1943.
A standard treatment.

LOCAL AREAS

Brown, R.G., Burma as I Saw It, 1889-1917, 1925.
Sometimes superficial.

Hughes, W.C., The Hill Tracts of Arakan, 1881.
Of limited value.

Olin, Hansa, The Kachins, Their Customs and Traditions, 1913.
The best account.

Settlement Reports of the Various Districts of Burma.
Contain a wealth of local information; each district is covered every 20 years or so.

ETHNOLOGY AND CUSTOMS

Enriquez, C.M.D., Races of Burma, 1933.
Author is an authority on subject.

Hall, H. Fielding, The Soul of a People, 1903.
Catches the Burman point of view.

Marshall, H.I., The Karen People of Burma, 1922.
Solid and thorough.

Milne, M.L., The Shans at Home, 1910.
Not remarkable.

Mootham, O.H., Burmese Buddhist Law, 1939.
Well done.

Shwey, Yo (Sir J.G. Scott), The Burman, His Life and Notions,
London, 1910.
Standard work on the subject.

B. CHINA

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

China Handbook 1937-1943, compiled by the Chinese Ministry of Information, New York, Macmillan Co., 1943.
Excellent, up-to-date source of Chinese Official information.

Hsu Hsi-shu, series of publications on Coming of War in China, Chinese Foreign Office.
Presents the picture from the Kuomintang point of view.

Latourette, Kenneth Scott, The Chinese, Their History and Culture, Part I, N.Y., Macmillan Co., 1942.
Gold, comprehensive history of China from early times to 1933.

GOVERNMENTAL AND MILITARY ORGANIZATION

Carlson, Evans Fordyce, Major, The Chinese Army, Its Organization and Military Efficiency, N.Y., IPR, 1940.
Study of Chinese Army gained from inside experience in it.

Linebarger, Paul M.A., The China of Chiang Kai-shek, Boston, World Peace Foundation, 1943.
Most comprehensive account of the different governments in China and the personnel in them.

Taylor, George E., The Struggle for North China, IPR, 1940.
Describes guerrilla and Japanese puppet governments in North China.

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ASPECTS

Arnold, Julian H., A Commercial and Industrial Handbook of China, Washington, 1926.
Detailed, place-by-place description of commercial and industrial China up to 1926. Though out of date in many details still an authoritative source book of facts.

Cressey, George Babcock, China's Geographic Foundations, A Survey of the Land and Its People, N.Y., McGraw-Hill, 1934.
The best brief geography of China that has been written; based on study and extensive personal observations of a well-trained geographer. Treats China by natural geographic regions and so cuts across provincial boundaries. A must book for anyone who desires to understand China.

B. CHINA (Cont'd.)

Remer, C.F., and Palmer, W.B., Study of Chinese Boycotts with Special Reference to the Economic Effectiveness, Johns Hopkins, 1933.

The use and effectiveness of boycotts as a weapon or stimulant of feeling against foreign interests or exploitation in China.

Tawley, R.H., Land and Labor in China, 1932.

A scholarly study of population, agricultural and labor problems, and an evaluation of China's chances of improvement.

Willoughby, W.W., Foreign Rights and Interests in China, 2 volumes.

A well-documented case history of issues arising between Chinese and western powers under the special treaties.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE

Buck, John Lossing, Land Utilization in China, chapters 2 & 3, English and Chinese, 1937.

An atlas type of presentation with many diagrams and maps. The first two chapters are generalizations on the land and the climate by a competent writer.

LOCAL AREAS

Fei Hsiao-tung, Peasant Life in China, A Field Study of Country Life in the Yangtze Valley, 1939.

One of the few sociological studies of China's farmers.

Snow, Edgar, Red Star over China, N.Y., Random House, 1938. Still the most comprehensive account of the Chinese Communists.

Ta Chen, Emigrant Communities of South China, N.Y., IPR, 1940.

The effect of emigration on south China villages; the resulting social disorganization, etc.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

A thorough but biased discussion of the political, social, and economic development of Formosa under Japanese rule.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

D. INDOCHINA

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

Lévy, S., Indochine, 1931. (Descriptive sentence immediately below)

Maspéro, G., Un Empire Colonial Français - L'Indochine, 1929.
Most reliable sources. Also give important information about religions, arts, modern organization, administration, etc.

Thompson, V., French Indochina, 1937.
Valuable descriptive work.

GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION

de Galember, J., Les Administrations et les Services Publics
Indochinois, 1931.
Possibly the most important work on administration in Indochina, but somewhat outdated.

Emnis, T.E., French Policy and Developments in Indochina, 1936.
An interesting descriptive work.

ECONOMIC

Gourou, Pierre, L'Utilisation du Sol en Indochine Française, 1940.
An outstanding study of land utilization.

Robequain, Charles, L'Evolution Economique de l'Indochine
Française, 1939.
A most important contribution to the study of economic factors. An English edition is being prepared.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE

Robequain, Charles, L'Indochine, 1935.
A vivid description of the country and the peoples. Numerous excellent illustrations.

Sion, J., Asie des Moussons in Vidal de la Blache, Geographie
Universelle, Vol. 9 #2, 1935.
A standard work.

D. INDOCHINA (Cont'd.)

LOCAL AREAS

Claeys, J.Y., Introduction à l'Etude de l'Annam et de Champa, 1934.

An entertaining description of the Annamite countries (history people, arts, etc.).

Robequain, Charles, Le Thanh-hoa, 2 Vols., 1929.

A detailed, general study of one of the most important provinces in Annam.

ETHNOLOGY AND CUSTOMS

Colegrove, Kenneth, Militarism in Japan, 1936.
A well-written discussion of Japanese military development.

Fahs, C.B., Government in Japan, Recent Trends in Scope and Operation, 1940.
The major emphasis here is on the part played by government in the rationalization of industry and the role of the government in Japan's war economy.

Reishchauer, R.K., Japan: Government, Politics, N.Y., 1939.
A brief study emphasizing recent trends.

Quigley, H.S., Japanese Government and Politics, An Introductory Study, 1932.
A comprehensive and detailed study including historical background, national and local government, and major political events and trends.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

E. JAPAN (Cont'd.)

ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL ASPECTS

Allen, G.C., Japan's Industry: Its Recent Development and Present Condition, IPR., 1940.
A brief but competent survey.
